Evolution Extreme Flats Boats

The Ultimate Work Boats

For almost 10 years Dura Poly Industries, Inc. has been an original equipment polymer tank manufacturer. Recently, we have been asked if we could build a boat that is as tough and as dependable as our tanks. The answer is yes.

Our staff at Dura Poly used the 50 years of knowledge and experience gained in building tanks along with feedback from fellow boaters to build the new technologically advanced superior polymer boat. Evolution is that new extreme boat.

We have combined the most innovative hull material with a flats boat design to produce the world's first series of polymer hulled flats boat. In fact, there is no fiberglass, metal, or wood in the construction of our flats boats. The welded construction results in a boat that is just one solid piece that will not separate. In addition, the bottom is double armor plated to provide extra protection from obstructions.

Our polymer flats boats solve all problems you would find with gelcoated, fiberglass, metal, wooden, or other fiber boats. It is not affected by saltwater, oil, or fuel. It will not rot, rust, corrode, crack, or be affected by marine organisms.

Evolution extreme flats boats are lighter than water so they float higher and handle lighter and easier than any fiberglass boat. Evolution flats boats are constructed of high impact industrial grade UV polymer to last much longer than flats boats made of other materials.

The superior design of Evolution flats boats have the following characteristics:

- Extreme crack resistance
- Extreme puncture resistance
- Heavy duty construction
- Custom built to meet your needs
- Painted, decaled, or left natural
- Easily cleaned
- Maintenance free
- Environmentally friendly
- 100% recyclable
- No costly repairs
- No gelcoat.

With these characteristics, Evolution flats boats are indeed the ultimate work boats. In addition, choose from our many options and accessories such as bait wells, rod holders, and the popular tunnel option.

Ask about our optional lifetime warranty.
